

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE

When you start work, it's likely that a lot will feel unfamiliar. When you work, what you wear, who you spend time with, the timetable – there may be many new things to get used to.

What three differences do you think will feel most challenging for you? How can you manage each of those challenges?

GOOD QUESTION

Think of five different people who will be able to help you during your first few weeks. Then consider specific questions you can ask each person and write them down in the next column.

PERSON	QUESTIONS

The killer question

Which question is most relevant to you and the industry / role you are moving into?
